The LLM Support Program at American University of Technology in collaboration with the Tripoli Bar Association is happy to offer the following course:

COURSE TITLE: INTRODUCTION TO CONTRACT DRAFTING:

[Online]

STARTING DATE:

Monday 28th of March 2022 / 5:00 PM-7:00 PM

SESSIONS:

8 sessions on Mondays

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

An interactive course, tailored for lawyers/practitioners who do not have a clear understanding of the essential skills of drafting clear contracts, including main clauses and provisions, structuring, terminology, etc. The course will cover all matters related to drafting contracts in their different forms and types. Also, the course will begin with introducing Alternative Dispute Resolution methods and techniques with emphasis on negotiation as it is a major player in drafting contracts and reaching a settlement for the benefit of your client.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION:

The course adopts an active learning approach whereby participants will be given case studies to discuss and debate with the instructor and among each other along with mock simulations and contracts preparation and discussions as previously mentioned.

TARGET AUDIENCE:

Lawyers and professionals wishing to expand knowledge and enhance their skills in drafting contracts. The trainings are not restricted to a specific target audience. Participants are required to display a required level of competence in both general English and Legal English ability, before enrolling in the course.

COURSE FEE:

Course Fee is USD 50 and LBP 2,000,000

PROFILE OF INSTRUCTOR: Dr. Mohamed Boudaher

Mohamed Boudaher, Managing Partner, Cedrus Law Group/LEXPERTS Law Group, Beirut Offices, Academic Advisor, University of London International Programs LLM Support Office/The American University of Technology, and the BBA, Beirut, Lebanon, a Part Time LL.M. Instructor, at the Lebanese American University, an Associate Professor, at Phoenicia University, School of Law and Political Sciences, a Part Time Instructor, at the CEC, the American University of Beirut, Beirut, Lebanon, and Academic Trainer, LACPA, Beirut, Lebanon.

Dr Boudaher holds a BA in Law from the Lebanese University/"Filière francophone de Droit", a DEA from the Saint Joseph University/Université Pantheon Assas – Paris 2, a Certificate in Arbitration from McGill University, an LLM in International and Comparative Dispute Resolution from the Queen Mary School of Law University of London, and a S.J.D. in Arbitration and Derivatives from the PennState University, The Dickinson School of Law.

Dr Boudaher Specializes in Arbitration, Corporate Governance, Compliance, AML, TF, and Risk Management (GARP), Construction contracts and Disputes, Banking and Regulatory matters, Franchise and International Investment and Dispute Resolution.

Dr Boudaher is a Registered member of the Beirut Bar since 2008, a Member of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (MCIArb), and Member of the British Institute of International and Comparative Law (BIICL).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, PLEASE CONTACT US AT 70-753 354

OR SEND AN EMAIL To: llmsupportprogram@aut.edu